Healing to Wellness Court
10 Key Components

1. Team, Community, & Nation Building
2. Entry
3. Eligibility
4. Healing and Treatment
5. Support & Supervision
6. Discipline & Encouragement
7. Respectful Communication
8. Enduring Knowledge & Experience
9. Enduring Knowledge & Experience
10. Sustained Team, Community, & Nation Building
Key Component 1: Individual and Healing Focus

Brings together treatment, healing resources, and the tribal justice process by using a team approach to achieve the healing of the participant and to promote Native nation building and the well-being of the community.
Participants enter Wellness Court through various referral points and legal processes that promote tribal sovereignty and the participant’s due (fair) process rights.

- Pre-Charge
- Post-Plea
- Post-conviction
- Transfer from another jurisdiction
- Civil Dependency Case
Key Component 3: Screening and Eligibility

Eligible court-involved substance-abusing candidates are identified early through legal and clinical screening for eligibility and are promptly placed into the Wellness Court.
Key Component 4: Treatment and Rehabilitation

Wellness Court provides access to holistic, structured, and phased alcohol and drug abuse treatment and rehabilitation services that incorporate culture and tradition.
Key Component 5: Intensive Supervision

Participants are monitored through intensive supervision that includes frequent and random drug testing, while participants and their families benefit from effective team-based case management.
Key Component 6: Incentives and Sanctions

Progressive incentives and sanctions are used to encourage participant compliance with Wellness Court requirements.
Key Component 7: Judicial Interaction

The Wellness Court Judge should have ongoing involvement with the team and with each participant.
Process measurement, performance measurement, and evaluation are tools used to monitor and evaluate the achievement of program goals, identify needed improvements, determined participant progress, and provide information to outside agencies.
Key Component 9: Continuing Interdisciplinary and Community Education

Continuing interdisciplinary and community education promote effective planning, implementation, and operation.

Team members should attend training at least on an annual basis, for an update on

- Substance abuse and mental health treatment
- Complementary treatment and social services
- Behavior modification
- Community supervision
- Drug and alcohol testing
- Team decision making
- Constitutional and legal issues
The Wellness Court should continue to develop and maintain ongoing commitments, communication, coordination, and cooperation among team members, service providers, and the community.
