Welcome to CTAS Purpose Area 9

The Resource Basket
Training and Technical Assistance Center
&
The Tribal Youth Resource Center

Tribal Youth Program
Tribal Youth Programs Orientation Overview

1. Grantee Lifecycle
2. Tribal Youth Program Framework
3. Strategic Planning
4. Next Steps
5. Closing
Grantee Lifecycle

Big Picture of Tribal Youth Programs Grant Lifecycle:

• Sharing CTAS Orientation Information
• Partner with Assigned TYRC TTA Specialist
• Hiring Staff/In-Service Training
• Formation of Advisory Board/Circle
• Strategic Planning (Strat Pak)
• Implementation
• Data Collection
• Reporting
• Sustainability
Tribal Youth Programs Framework

Tribal Custom
- Cultural Ways
- Guidance
- Connection

Prevention
- School Based
- Mentoring
- Restorative Practices

Intervention
- Therapeutic & Healing Referrals & Services

Youth Focused
- Youth Leadership & Empowerment Opportunities from Planning to Sustainability
Don’t Forget:

Incorporating the key components of a robust Tribal Youth Program takes planning...

Strategic planning helps to identify program challenges and strategies to address them and to create partnerships that are important for implementation and sustainability.
• Alaska grantees and grantees in the lower 48 will have a different strategic planning process!

• Generally, strategic planning is part of the OJJDP Tribal Youth Program grantee requirements
As an OJJDP Grantee you will work with your designated Training and Technical Assistance Center to complete a “Strat Pak” to develop a comprehensive project plan. Alaska Grantees will work with The Resource Basket TTA Center and all other Grantees will work with Tribal Youth Resource Center.
Strat Pak Site Visit

- Individualized to Grantee community
- January or February
- Resource Basket staff will arrange with the Grantee POC for the best time
- Grantee’s Advisory Committee must be available to meet for a 1 or 1 1/2 day meeting during the Site Visit
- Work through the Strat Pak with the Advisory Committee during that visit
Tribal Youth Programs Strategic Planning Meeting (Strat Pak)

March 2020
Location: TBD

The OJJDP Tribal Youth Strategic Planning Meeting is a mandatory* three-day intensive “hands-on” training that is highly team-centered and interactive Tribal Youth Program grantees will have an opportunity to work closely with OJJDP TTAC representatives and their OJJDP program managers to begin the first stages of development of their strategic plans for implementation of their program for tribal youth.
As established by the OJJDP “special conditions” in your grant award, Tribal Program Coordinators must be represented and are required to bring three (3) additional people to form a team of key program and community stakeholders. These stakeholders are people who will be instrumental in mobilizing your grant program, community and essential partnerships. These individuals could include but are not limited to:

- Elder
- Cultural support staff
- Other community members
- Tribal law enforcement
- Other youth serving program staff
- Elected tribal official
- Other service provider that is integral to the success of your initiative
Preparing for the FY 2019 Tribal Youth Strategic Planning Meeting

- Week of December 16th: The Tribal Youth Resource Center will contact you to follow up on any questions you may have from the CTAS Orientation meeting.

- Week of January 6th: The Tribal Youth Resource Center will contact you to:
  - Update POC and new hires information for TYP grant
  - Identify potential Strategic Planning Meeting team members
  - Map out next steps for Strategic Planning Meeting preparation
Ready, Set, Launch:

• Sketching out your immediate task plan
Tribal Youth Resource Center